Frankfort Area To Be Canvassed For Funds To Provide Service

HOW TIMES HAVE CHANGED!

All That Meat And No Potatoes Is Theme Song Of These Burglars

Hungry burglars—who liked meat but no potatoes—broke into the Economy Food Store at New Lenox early last Thursday morning and carried off a considerable quantity of merchandise.

The thieves passed up the change that was lying exposed in open cash drawers but laid heavy hands on the meats. The loot included canned hams, bacon, rump roasts, rib roasts, pot roasts and round steak.

Added Police Protection
New Lenox now has police protection 24 hours a day.

The persistent burglars that have plagued the village for the past several months has prompted officials to extend police protection around the clock. The new system was put in force Tuesday night.

Work of the squad on duty late at night and during the early morning hours will be confined for the most part to patrolling. Persons who see anything suspicious may get in touch with local police thru the sheriff's office. Any message given to the sheriff's office will be relayed to the New Lenox police via radio.

The new man added to the New Lenox force is Loren Cantrell, a former patrolman for the Joliet park district.

A bag of potatoes was emptied into a carton and the sack apparently used to carry out the meat. A banana crate also was emptied of its fruit and the container used to lug merchandise to a waiting car or truck. Twenty-eight empty cigar cartons were found on the floor, according to Deputy Sheriffs Charles Timm and Lee Ruphard, who are investigating the case, indicating that the burglars could hide the loose packages easier than they could if kept in cartons.

Just how much merchandise was taken is difficult to determine, according to the store.

Police Chief Resigns; Asked To Reconsider

Mokena Police Chief James Smetana tendered his resignation to the village board at its regular meeting Tuesday night. He did not assign any reason for the move. The board did not act upon Smetana's proposal but asked him to reconsider.

Except for this surprise move by the chief most of the business was routine.

The board gave its approval to a request of Sheldon Hauck that his property at Wolf and Front street, the former site of the Helenhouse blacksmith shop, be rezoned for commercial purposes. Hauck repeated what he had told the board at a previous meeting, that he wanted to use the property as a parking lot for patrons of the oil station operated across the street by Charles Flory. The station is owned by Hauck.

Quit claim deeds were given to the board by George Rinke and Charles Burkhard conveying a 3-foot strip along Midland avenue between Carpenter and Third ave. to the village. This action was taken as part of a plan submitted sometime ago for widening Midland ave. No immediate move for furthering the plan is anticipated at this time. One of the steps still needed belongs to an estate that has not been settled. It was said.

An ordinance is in the making which would require persons who do not yet have water meters to pay an average bill instead of the minimum, as some have been doing. Persons who do not have meters will be required to put them in, under penalty of not having any water. The board advised Don Helon, who complained that he

Methodists To Consecrate Sunday School Building At New Lenox

Consecration of the new addition to the New Lenox Methodist church—erected to serve the Sunday school and extra-activities of the congregation—is to take place this coming Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The ceremony will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. R. Merrill Powers, superintendent of the Joliet-Dixon district, who in the absence of the bishop will accept the building in behalf of the Methodist people and then turn it back to the New Lenox congregation.

The Rev. J. B. Martin, father of the pastor of the New Lenox church, the Rev. George W. Martin, is to be the speaker and prayers will be offered by the Rev. Ralph Miller, former pastor of the New Lenox church and now in charge of Christ Methodist church, Rockford, and Robert Townsend, a student minister now in Creston, Ill., also formerly of New Lenox. The Rev. George Martin will make the introductions.

Sunday School Grows

At the program Sunday afternoon the building committee will receive the key from the contractor, signifying acceptance of the work, and will in turn tender it to Dr. Powers. Following consecration of the structure the key will go back to the New Lenox congregation.

The new addition—84 feet long by 40 feet wide—is of concrete.

Amvets Warn Of "Racket Calls"

Warning has been issued to the public by Anthony Dina, of Mokena, commander of Amvets Post No. 183, to beware of telephone solicitations made in its name.

In the past week scores of Tinley Park residents have received telephone calls from a woman seeking cash contributions in the name of Amvets Post No. 183. Such solicitation is without authorization, Commander Dina said. He added that if any solicitations were ever conducted by Post 183 it would be on a person to person basis by bonafide members, bearing credentials.

The Amvets are endeavoring to locate the source of the calls at Tinley with the intent of taking action against the woman making them.

Post 183 serves the area, Mokena, Frankfort, New Lenox, Orland Park and Tinley Park.

had been getting sewerage in his basement, to work out a solution with his neighbors. The tiles involved are all on private property, it was pointed out by the board, and therefore, a private matter.

St. John's To Open Fund Drive For Addition

With final approval given by committee and congregation, a large wing to house the Sunday school and also serve other department, is to be added to St. John's United church of Mokena and a fund drive to finance the project is to begin the last week in November.

The cost is estimated at approximately $90,000 and a meeting last Sunday the finance committee approved a campaign to raise that amount.

According to the plans the addition will be 102 feet long and 52 feet wide. There will be two floors and the structure will contain class rooms for the Sunday school, a parlor, church office and work room, the pastor's study, a nursery to house the very young and wash rooms.

The present church was built in 1922 at a cost of $37,600.

The committee in charge of the fund raising is busy now setting up the mechanics of the campaign.

Nations to Pay Homage to Veterans

Monday, Nov. 11, is Veterans Day. Changed by an Act of Congress in 1954 from Armistice Day, to honor veterans of World Wars I and II.

In Britain services will be held before the Cenotaph in London; in France, at the Arch of Triumph in Paris and in the United States, at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National cemetery.

Many places hold a period of silence at 11 a. m. the time at which negotiations were made to end World War I.

Schools, banks and many other institutions will close on this national holiday.

Frankfort Grade School Band To Give Concert on Nov. 15

Band students at the Frankfort grade school are presenting a concert in the school on Nov. 15. A free will offering will be taken.

On Nov. 11, Veteran's Day, the school will be closed.

Officials express appreciation to all who cooperated in the Fun Night held in the school recently.

A plan to provide the Frankfort and Green Garden area with fire protection was agreed upon at a public meeting held Tuesday night in the Frankfort village hall and a committee is to meet at the same place next Monday night to work out the details.

In brief the plan calls for voluntary payment of a set amount into the fire department's treasury by persons living outside the village of Frankfort.

They are exempt because they make their contribution to the fund thru taxes. The village board is expected to pay approximately $1,800 into the fund for this year, in addition to paying for the insurance carried on the apparatus and the 38 members of the department.

As matters stand now only the village of Frankfort has fire protection. A recent referendum was held in the area on a proposal to form a fire protection district. Under such a district the expense of operating a fire department is borne by taxes imposed on all property owners. The proposal carried in Frankfort and Lincoln Estates but was defeated in the rural sections.

Following the election the fire department and the Frankfort village board adopted a resolution informing the public that as of Oct. 29, service by the department outside the corporate limits would be abandoned. At the same time the public was asked to attend the meeting held this Monday night in an effort to work out some solution.

Paul Lambrecht, president of the fire department, presided. He explained that the village itself, having a water system and hydrants, could be protected by current equipment, old as it is—one truck being 20 years old and the other over 10. To provide and equip a tank truck of sufficient size to cope with fires in the outlying areas will cost between $12 and $15,000, he said.

It is not expected that the entire amount will be forthcoming immediately but it was agreed that is a substantial portion, say half, could be realized now, the remainder of the amount necessary could be financed and paid off next year.

It was agreed by the people present—approximately 50 were in attendance—that the amount due from each householder should be set at $8 while the amount expected from a farm owner was fixed at $18. A few considered these amounts too large and suggested that the amount each should pay be worked out on a valuation basis. They agreed, however, that such a procedure would be difficult and entail an extra cost and that they were willing to go along on the $8 and $18 scale.

Several pointed out that in an other two years they could vote again on the fire protection district (the law prevents another vote on such a question for two years) and they believed that next time it could be carried.

Memorial Vesper Service Will Be Held At Palos

The board of trustees of the Community Center Foundation, Palos Park, invited all friends of the Foundation to attend the annual memorial vesper service and meeting on Sunday, Nov. 10.

The vesper service, to be held at 4:30 p.m., is an opportunity for many who have been associated with the Center for a long period of years and for those who have recently become acquainted with its work to remember Ernest Warner and other friends—friends who, like Mr. Warner, made possible the growth of the Foundation in different ways over the past 30 years. Mr. Warner, an early settler in the Palos area, became interested in and foresaw the possibilities of such a center as outlined to him by the Rev. Paul T. Sanders, director and founder. At the time of his death Mr. Warner willed the remainder of the sixty-acre tract, which had been his farm, to the Foundation; part of this he had previously bestowed as a nucleus for the project, early incorporated as a non-profit organization to serve all mankind regardless of color, creed, or race.

Erected in 1950, the memorial chapel stands on the site of the old barn. The wooded land between the chapel and the main lodge was the pasture. The old Brick Farm House, in which Mr. Warner had lived, is the only building of that period still in use. At present there are eleven buildings. The farm is now located on the opposite side of Southwest highway.

The Rev. Mr. Sanders will give the memorial address at the service. Mrs. Carlton S. Wood of Palos Heights will be the organist and Mrs. George Botts of Beverly is to sing.

After the service tea will be served in the main lodge.

Boob of the Month

KNICK KNACK NORMAN was first to get the new California Novelty GIANT dice.

Now these "Large two-inch cubes, covered with colorful angora type fur, light as a feather, choice of red, white or black" (as advertised), swing prettily from the rear view mirror in his car.

Also dangling from the mirror are other nifty numbers.

Norman esteems them as real classy.

Of course, he can't use the mirror properly, but he has got along all right—so far.—Cook County Highway Department.

Bremen Home Group Meets at Home of Mrs. George Smith

The Bremen Home Bureau met Oct. 30 at the home of its president Mrs. George Smith, with Mrs. William Smith and Mrs. Leonard Splawski assistant hostesses. This was a last minute arrangement inasmuch as the "flu bug" changed the original plans. Mrs. Claradehl Upham, home advisor, was not able to give her lesson because of illness. The program included the lesson scheduled for the November meeting, "Serving Portions for Health." This was capably handled by the local leaders, Mrs. William Smith and Mrs. Richard Seidel.

The evening was highlighted by a "Spooky Skit" presented by the two Mrs. Smiths. From the squeals and muffled screams, the members must have enjoyed it.

Homemade doughnuts and coffee were served to 17 members and four guests, Mrs. John Gill of Palos Heights, Mrs. Holleman and Mrs. Palmer both of Frankfort and Mrs. Archie Albert of Tinley Park.

A craft lesson featuring Christmas decorations will be held in the home of Mrs. William Lake on Nov. 7 at 7:30 p.m. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Lake or Mrs. Robert Oates.

The place, date and time of the November meeting will be announced at a later time. Mrs. Claradehl Upham will be on hand to deliver the lesson scheduled for October. How do you rate as the family dietitian.

Evensong

Evening's a lonely time
When you sit and wait,
Listening for footsteps
To turn in at the gate.
Up and down the little lane
Windows come alight;
Families unite again,
Close against the night.
Birds have sung their vesper songs,
Now, within the nest,
Each is home where it belongs,
Settled down to rest.
Each beside its drowsy mate,
Evening's a lonely time,
When you sit, and wait.

Snow Dessert the Gelatine Way

Cool, low-calorie snow is a light dessert to climax a hearty meal. Here the classic and sophisticated recipe combines the refreshing tang of orange, lemonade, grape or grapefruit frozen concentrated fruit juice with egg whites and unflavored gelatine. The remaining egg yolks go into a custard sauce to top each serving.

Fruit Juice Snow
1 envelope unflavored gelatine
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/4 cups very hot water
1 can (6 ounces) frozen concentrated fruit juice
2 unbeaten egg whites
Mix together gelatine, sugar and salt. Add very hot water and stir until gelatine is thoroughly dissolved. Add undiluted fruit juice concentrate and stir until blended. Chill until mixture is slightly thicker than the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Add unbeaten egg whites and beat with rotary or electric beater until mixture begins to hold its shape. (To speed up chilling and beating time, set mixture over ice and water.) Turn into a 6 or 7-cup mold or individual molds, or spoon into dessert dishes. Chill until firm. Unmold (if molded) and serve with Custard Sauce which utilizes remaining 2 egg yolks.
YIELD: 8 servings.

Custard Sauce
1 1/2 cups milk
1 whole egg
2 egg yolks
3 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
Scald milk in top of double boiler. Beat whole egg and egg yolks stir in sugar and salt. Gradually add small amount of the hot milk, stirring constantly. Return to double boiler and cook over hot, not boiling, water until mixture coats the spoon. Remove from heat; cool. Stir in vanilla.

HOODLUM HUNTERS

In addition to their other problems, farmers now face what has become an annual menace—Hunters!

Beginning next Monday the pheasant season opens in Illinois, to remain open until Nov. 30. From Nov. 16 to Dec. 25 one may shoot quail and rabbits may be shot from Nov. 23 to Jan. 20.

The rabbit shooting does not present too much of a problem but the pheasant, and now the quail, seasons are fraught with danger to the farmers.

The so-called hunters for the most part are roving gangs of armed men who will and do shoot at anything, anytime, anywhere and threaten to turn their guns on anyone who would interfere with their pleasures.

Farmers in Will and south Cook counties are facing the coming bird seasons with dread and foreboding. Too many hunters think that a license is a permit to enter upon any land and fly into a rage when informed they are trespassing and ordered to leave. Quite a number of them refuse to vacate premises until they have finished drawing it in their search for game.

Some of these hoodlum hunters threaten to kill the farmer or members of his family if he takes any move against them, while others, with fingers on triggers, contemptuously invite the farmer to put them off if he thinks he can.

There are not sufficient sheriff's deputies to police the farm areas nor are there enough state game wardens.

Farmers put up signs warning against hunting or trespass but in too many instances such signs are useless.

The offending hunters not only come out of Chicago but from Joliet and the neighborhood communities as well. One Mokena man, for instance, granted permission to hunt a certain farm in the area, not only took it upon himself to invite a friend to accompany him without the owners leave but afterwards, in discussing a hunting accident at another spot, told the farmer that had anything happened to him or his companion while they were hunting on his land they would have made him pay and pay well.

Too many hunters are addicted to the habit of shooting at anything that moves. They kill cattle, sheep, pigs, poultry and farmers' dogs. These trespassers even invade farmyards at times and there are a number of farm homes reported to bear the mark of shotgun pellets fired by these trigger-happy gunmen. Quite a few shoot each other but that process is a slow one and does not reduce the number of goofy nimrods to any appreciable extent.

There are many well-mannered, well-behaved hunters and it is too bad that they must suffer for the sins of the ignorant gun-toting crews that will be cluttering up the countryside next week.

Apparently the only thing to be done to protect the farmer and his property is to abolish all hunting except on state or club operated land.

CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN

Each year, as the Christmas season approaches, the National Tuberculosis Association carries on its annual Christmas Seal campaign. And it would be hard indeed to find a cause more worthy of public interest and support.

Great strides have been made in fighting tuberculosis—due in no small part to the work of the Association, and to the financial success past sales have achieved. But a great deal more remains to be done and must be done. The latest estimates indicate that 250,000 Americans have active TB, 100,000 of them unknown to health authorities. In addition, there are 1,750,000 people with inactive TB, and 550,000 of them are still in need of medical supervision or public health follow up. And an estimated 55,000,000 Americans—a third of the population—are infected with the germs that cause TB. Some 2,700,000 of this huge group will develop TB in their lifetimes, if the present rate of development of disease from infection continues.

Early diagnosis and immediate treatment are essential in the control of TB. Education of the public and continued research are other vital weapons in this war. The Christmas Seal Sale supports the work of the 3,000 voluntary tuberculosis associations in this country and its possessions. Significantly, of the money raised each year in local communities, 94 per cent remains within the state.

The campaign begins Nov. 15 and will continue thru December. Do your part by buying seals.

Urges Building Of New TB Wing At Oak Forest

(CNS) Construction of a new building for tuberculosis patients at overcrowded Oak Forest hospital was urged Monday by County Commissioner John Mackler Jr.

Mackler said at least 200 additional beds are needed immediately to accommodate the chronically ill on the waiting list for admittance.

Patients now must wait four months, with many of them dying before they get there, Mackler told the commissioners.

He suggested the board study

Lincoln-Way Testing Program To Get Trial

Dr. J. Thomas Hastings, director of the Illinois statewide testing program, University of Illinois, met with the Lincoln-Way teachers Monday, Oct. 28, as consultant on the testing program which Lincoln-Way is developing.

The first of the several meetings to be held this year with Dr. Hastings had a two-fold purpose—that of orienting the teachers who will be involved in administering the statewide tests to juniors on Nov. 13 and finding out what sort of problems in general were being discussed in the testing, evaluating, and guidance areas.

The second meeting will be in February when the results of the statewide testing for juniors will be returned.

the possibility of using part of the recently approved $9.5 million bond issue for rehabilitation work at Oak Forest for a new building and "cut corners" on the repair program.

"Two thirds of the people whom I tried to get into Oak Forest died before they could get in," Mackler said. "And with our overcrowded conditions it appears the waiting period soon will be six months. This is a serious situation and I don't see where it'll get any better unless we take a new look before we draw up next year's budget."

Supt. Carl K. Schmidt, of Oak Forest, said the hospital's chronic disease unit has about 2,200 patients of whom 1,500 occupy hospital beds. There are 420 patients in the hospital's TB unit, he said.

Daniel Ryan, board president, requested Commissioner James F. Ashenden, chairman of the board's Oak Forest hospital committee, to consider Mackler's proposal at the earliest possible date. Ashenden said he would call a meeting within a week, with members of the budget and architectural staffs attending.

Commissioner William N. Erickson pointed out the board must follow closely the wording of the bond issue to see whether any money may be diverted to the new building proposal.

The surface of the moon is cold, bleak and airless, just as it is in a test chamber at the Naval Ordnance Laboratory, at Silver Springs, Md., where scientists can duplicate the effects of climatic and atmospheric conditions on weapons.

The memorial fund will be maintained by contributions from the children attending Orchard Hill and will be used to assist some deserving youngster who for financial reasons may not otherwise be able to enjoy the experience of attending the school.

CLASSROOMS GROW at Lincoln-Way high school. Besides this addition which runs north at the east end of the original building the builders are rearranging space in the older structure to provide more room. More room is a requisite at practically all schools these days and the problem of providing it has become a chronic headache to school boards, administrators and taxpayers. Work on the interior of the Lincoln-Way addition is progressing and the wing is expected to be ready for occupancy in the next month or so. It is hoped to have the auditorium completed in time for commencement next June.

NOTHING LIKE A HOTDOG cooked at an open fire to assuage the pangs of hunger that appear to assail the young after any physical endeavor, like a Halloween parade for instance. For that matter the young don't need any exercise to make them hungry—hunger just comes naturally. There was a time when cider and doughnuts were standard equipment for a Halloween snack. Now hotdogs and cokes get the call from the young fry and when someone discovers how to cook pizza on the end of a stick guess what the favorite food will be. Just who made up this quintet was not ascertained but the picture was taken near the VFW hall at Mokena following the Halloween parade last Thursday. (Robert Porter photo)

A Word To The Wives Sufficient — Don't Be A Cornpicker Widow

Do you wives of Illinois corn picker operators love your husbands? If so, remind them of these facts:

In the past 10 years, the number of mechanical corn pickers has increased 425 per cent until Illinois now has 90,000 of them. This means lots of opportunities for accidents if the pickers are not operated carefully.

The best safety device is a careful operator, and your husband can be one if he will follow these safety rules, says O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist at the University of Illinois.

1. Stop the picker before greasing, adjusting or unclogging. Make (shutting off the power) a habit every time you leave the tractor seat.
2. Keep shields in place. Never operate without them.
3. Dress for the job. Always wear close-fitting clothes that are warm and comfortable. "Extra thumb" gloves are especially dangerous.
4. Prohibit extra riders and see that you have a firm footing when climbing on and off machinery.
5. On the highway, use a red flag "up high" to warn motorists of slow-moving farm vehicles. At night use a white light in front and a red one in the rear. Obey all traffic rules.

If your husband follows these simple rules, he can harvest his corn efficiently and safely.

Hail Auto As World Champion Budget Buster

With an average income of $5,000 a year, and an annual average of 10,000 miles of driving in the family car, the American family may well be kept broke by its automobile, according to the editors of Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine in a copyrighted article, "Is Your Car Keeping You Broke?"

A great many families, unaware of what it costs to own a car, are finding that car expenses cause sacrifices and economies elsewhere in the family budget. The actual cost of owning a new car, say the editors, is about $775 a year if driven 5,000 miles, and about $952 a year if driven 10,000 miles.

This means that only an above-average family can drive its car 10,000 miles a year without seriously lowering its standard of living, the editors say.

The only way for the $5,000-a-year family to keep its auto expenses within 10 per cent of its income is to buy a used car about every four years, and drive it only 7,000 miles a year, according to one government study.

How to Figure Car Expenses
Whether you are planning to buy your first car, thinking of replacing your car or just driving a car, you should follow these suggestions, the editors say.

1. Analyze your spending carefully to see just what you really can afford.
2. Analyze your prospective expenses accurately to see what you would have to spend.
3. Keep tabs on actual spending.

4. Buy transportation, the necessity—not prestige and fashion which are the luxuries.

To figure what it costs to run a car, add up your fixed expenses—annual auto insurance premiums, license fees, property tax, garage and parking fees and depreciation.

When you figure depreciation, remember that cars decline in value at an irregular rate—perhaps 25% the first year, 15% the second and 10% from then on. To get a rough figure for depreciation, take the purchase price of your car, including finance charges. Subtract the probable value at the time you expect to trade or sell. Divide by the number of years you expect to keep the car. Result: the average amount spent each year on depreciation.

The cost of operating a low-priced prewar car comes to about 3½ cents a mile on a national average. That covers gas and oil, maintenance and repairs, and tires.

By adding together the total operating and fixed costs, you can see how much you spend or will spend for your car each year. By dividing that sum by total mileage for a year, you can get your per-mile expense.

Then you'll be in shape to decide whether the amount of spending involved is actually worth what you get in return, what the impact on the rest of your spending is, and how to best adjust that other spending.

It is open to all interested in the work of the foundation which covers many phases—camp, crafts, counseling, farming, retreats, and rehabilitation. At this time the Rev. Paul T. Sanders will present the director's report covering the achievements of the past year and plans for the future.

Neil J. Anderson of Palos Park, president of the board of trustees, will preside. The invocation will be given by the Rev. FRANKFORT AREA—nished at the meeting thru official sources there are approximately 220 farms in the Frankfort area and approximately 300 homes outside the village and not including those on farms.

If everyone contributed according to plan the annual return would be $8,100, including $1,800 from the village of Frankfort. If two thirds of the persons paid there would still be approximately $6,000 available for the fire department fund.

It was estimated that it would take about three years at this rate to pay for a new truck because not all of the money could be applied for such purpose, as maintenance for the rigs and the purchase of supplies and equipment would have to come out of the fund.

It was pointed out that the clauses in insurance policies providing payment of $50 or $100 to the fire department in the event it answered a fire alarm at the home of the insured did not answer the Frankfort departments present need. What is needed now, Mr. Lambrecht made plain, was cash.

It was also agreed that every one in the area would be solicited and thus given an opportunity to subscribe to the fund. Only those who pay would receive protection. Calls from others would be ignored.

"If everyone is solicited and the matter explained to them and they decline to subscribe for service," Mr. Lambrecht said, in summing up the sentiment of the meeting on this phase, "then we are freed of any moral obligation to answer fire calls coming from them."

Special rates will be worked out for commercial and industrial property, it was said.

The cost for service for a farm is higher than that for an individual home, it was pointed out, because the department has to go further, stay longer and has more work because of the number of buildings threatened than at the average home fire in the area.

The committee to meet Monday night is to include: Arthur Geuther, Herschel Patterson, Leonard Patterson, George Koehler, Robert Flassig, Herman Barlewort, Casey Jenkot, Harold Scheer, Fred Wiegel, Albert H. Krusemark, Adam Heisner, Wilbur Hossbach, Fred Kohlhagen, Lynn Kohlhagen, Orville Schroeder, Don Schroeder, Walter Mark Conrad Mark, Burnett Schram, Paul Lambrecht, Mayor George Sangmeister and Village Clerk Walter Pfaff.

Motorists should separate foot ball emotions from driving habits when going to or coming from a football game, says the Chicago Motor club. Football is a sport where it is understood that someone will win or lose. Driving is not a sport, and motorists can't afford to lose. Drive with car for a victory over traffic accidents, the club says.

Motorists should prepare now for winter driving by checking their tires, anti-freeze, defrosters, windshield wipers and all safety equipment, the Chicago Motor club advises.

Aluminum Can Mess Up Clothes —Laundry Warns

Brown spots and holes that mysteriously appear in cotton garments may be due to aluminum zippers, according to textile analysts at American Institute of Laundering, research and educational center for the professional laundry industry.

When combined with another metal and under certain conditions, and aluminum zipper can cause damage to occur. The situation ordinarily begins when a dampened garment is rolled up for ironing. The two dissimilar metals create a tiny electric current and a chemical reaction occurs. In addition to dampness, the fabric must contain some substance that will conduct electricity. This substance could be the salt in liquid starch, some detergent not removed by rinsing, or some of the materials contained in hard water. Pure water will not conduct electricity.

When these three factors—dissimilar metals, water and a substance which conducts electricity—get together, acid is formed. The amount of acid is small and weak, but when a hot iron is applied, the acid is strengthened to a point where a brown spot or a hole appears.

For damage to occur, it is necessary that the damp fabric lie in contact with a zipper containing two metals. If in doubt about the metal contained in a zipper, technicians at American Institute of Laundering advise the homemaker not to sprinkle and roll a laundered garment. Instead, dry quickly and press as soon as it is dry enough to iron. If the garment must be dampened and rolled, fold with the zipper outside, keep the fabric around the zipper dry and iron soon.

OUR FEET ARE STILL TAPPING

What a glorious time, I had at the hard time dance last Saturday. I can only speak from my own experience, but strongly suspect the same feeling of friendliness and happy exhaustion was shared by all who were present! (I could prove this by a few eaves dropping incidents during the boisterous evening.)

How much more content we can now feel about the social future of our community. That night we all smiled at new faces, learned the names of familiar but hitherto-nameless faces, and were amazed, most of all, by the startling NUMBER of neighbors faces. It suddenly gave us the awareness that we are building a real town out here! Not just an unidentified dot..... but a place of real homes with real people.

Some people our own size, our own age, our own interests. People who love to jump and squeal and feel giddy and free once in a great while, after long bitter months of laboring on unfinished ground and unpaid expenses. People who actually perspire when we do, and laugh at the same jokes we laugh at. People who eat donuts and coffee..... just like we do!

There is no joy like that of oneness with the human race.

Now, we can all lean back for a few days and rest, remembering our happy social evening. But while we're resting, why not let our minds wander slowly over the social events we should most like to share in the future? We can build out here precisely what we wish to build. There are no restrictions on imagination and happiness as yet. Why not give your ideas to people who can bring them into reality.

Follow the Calendar of Events. Attend the meetings that most intrigue you. Offer them your ideas for our future. We have everything to gain at this moment. Ah, my feet are still tapping.....

A LETTER FROM OUR PASTOR

Rev. J. J. Van Boskirk, the organizing pastor of the Christian church in our village, has sent this letter for publication: "Dear Friends:

There are places on earth where churches are taboo as a matter of national policy. In America the only communities in which there are no churches are those which are so new as not to have built them yet. Churches are at the foundation of the so-called American way of life.

'Country Club Hills, with its roomy houses, spacious yards, and citizens of high intelligence and initiative, does not yet have a church building of its own; but one is in the making. This letter is to suggest ways in which you may become a part of the Country Club Hills Christian church.

'Starting at 9:30, we have a worship service that should appeal to the whole family. There will be a story for the children, hymns we can all sing, and a sermon on a current subject. There will be a nursery for small children.

'At 11 a.m. we will have worship for adults and church school classes for children. Babies in baskets will be cared for in a private home.

'Even if your child has not started to church school yet, perhaps he would like to attend the class parties planned for special dates. We have a marvelous program planned for our children's classes throughout the coming year supervised by Mrs. Alice MacKenzie.

'May I welcome one and all to visit our church next Sunday and have a look around. We have a friendly visiting period after each service.'

THE WILSON NEWS STAND

Want copies of this paper? Like to send one home to your mother? Like an extra copy of that issue with your name in it?

From now on, I will try to serve as newsboy for you out here in our own village. It is so difficult to drive in to Tinley Park just to pick up a 7c paper! But zipping over to neighbor's house isn't so bad. When you want copies of a week's issue, drive over and I'll sell you the number you want. That's 17925 South John Ave. (A redwood house facing square west down 179th street.)

SUBSCRIPTIONS?

People have been asking me how to subscribe to this paper. Well, tell your friends they can either: (1) Mail in $2 for 6 months or $3 for one year to the Tinley Park Times, 17311 Oak Park, Tinley Park. (The paper will be mailed every week straight to their mailbox.) ...or (2) Call Mrs. Milly Berdan, SY 8-6983. She will send young boys over to take money for subscriptions. (Each boy makes a profit on his sales, of course.) It's simply a question of whether you wish to send all the money to the paper or give a bit of profit to community boys. Either way works.

MOVING MADLY

Be a bit patient for a while about new subscriptions as the newspaper is a small one, with many files and records to keep (with little help.) They have just spent a wild month moving all their records and office equipment from one address to another down the street. So if you fail to receive your paper, etc..... notify me. I will pass it on for double checking now that they are moved. (And WE all know what THAT'S like!)

LOOK AT THE LOOT!

Here is the list of winners and their prizes from the hard times dance, sponsored by the Citizens Committee.

Ken Bruder, metal glasses and tray; Mrs. Thompson, record cases; Ray Bergmann, record cases; Robt. Springbord, $5 gift certificate.

Pat Hastings, $5 gift certificate; Elaine Timmermann, 7 gal. milk; Hazel Marquedsen, glasses; Charles Japp, $10 gift certificate; Ginnie Skorrow, $10 gift certificate; Jack Grone, 8x10 portrait; Billie Jones, electric clock; Clayton Ammondson, Perry Como albums; Clinton Nelson, child's portrait; C. W. Leek, electric coffee pot; C. Million, $25 Fuel Oil; C. Shatz, clothes dryer; Loyal Order of Moose (Harvey), portable TV, Louis Trine, bench grinder and Bud Otto, stole.

The craziest thing of all, was the winning of a prize by one business firm from another business firm!

BLAZING BONFIRE

It was a nippy night in the country—the night before Halloween. Gathered in the woods were 70 people, young boys, men and women. They had a blazing fire and a blazing good time!

This was the first Pack Meeting for our Cub Scouts. The four dens of boys presented skits: 1. "The Burning of the Witch". 2. "Indian Summer." 3. "The Ghosts" 4. "Indian Pow-Wow."

After these exciting dramatics the guests and boys sat on the ground around their roaring fire and drank four gallons of cider and ate mountains of cookies brought by the many mothers. There were so many good treats donated that Mrs. Milly Berdan, one of the Den Mothers, drove over the next day to the Oak Forest hospital with a basket of them as a gift from the Cub Scouts.

This exciting pack meeting was introduced by the representative, Mr. Carl Timmerman. The master of ceremonies was cub master, Ray Hale.

SPOOKY

Hallowe'en was truly an invigorating revival of youthful spirit for all of us. Though my own four baby loves had influenza all week, we managed to drag ourselves upright for the festivities. Anything is possible when the heart desires it be done!

Very young children had a party, with treats and costumes and games, in the main school building on Saturday afternoon before Halloween. This was a surprise, sponsored by the Christian Church and supervised by their Sunday School teachers. You may recall, that was the day of the shocking snow. But tiny children care not a whit for obstacles of nature! Their chubby faces must be masked and their tongues sweetened with sugar—for it's magic time of all the year.

Then, on Hallowe'en night. What a commotion! What a hub-bub! What a hilarious parade! I don't know about you—but WE kept running out of treats! Finally I emptied my cracker cupboard, went on to morning cereal boxes, and was considering loaves of bread next when my husband decided there was nothing left but to drive out and buy some more boxes of real treats.

It was such fun. Cowboys and witches seemed to be most favored, in our section of the village. What was especially crazy was the sight of some tiny children holding up huge shopping bags—larger than themselves! (And they seemed to get filled, too.) One inventive troop came down our dark drive waving flashing lights and clanging wild bells. The lighting effect was grand (it only took small flashlights.) They were the only ones who thought of it.

If I had been giving prizes, the best costume would have been the stranger (male or female?) who was dressed as a will old man, with padded shoulders under a frayed dark suit. His face was all covered with stubble and he was silent and terrifying, with glimmering eyes. We saw "him" twice, and never did figure whether it was boy or girl.

Boy, we really have our share of evil spirits! At our house, the parade of them lasted from 5 to 9:30. Pretty spooky.

EMERYO TYCOONS

"Hubby need not know, you didn't shovel the snow. For a little dough, we will shovel the snow."

This sassy little business note was found in my mailbox the morning of the surprise snow. Such cleverness should be rewarded! It said: "Please call:

SY 8-5473, Peter Morris
SY 8-5609, Steven Forsgren."
Whew! Well, that's all for this week. Til next week then—
May You Fare Well.

CPA Tells How To Plan Your Federal Income Tax Deductions

(This is the second in a series of four articles on federal income taxes. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Illinois Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

By waiting until after the first of the year to decide whether to itemize your deductions or take the standard 10-per cent deduction, you run the risk of losing your greatest tax-saving opportunity.

When you are forced to take the standard deduction because your deductible expenses are less than 10-per cent of your adjusted gross income, you literally "waste" your expense deductions, for tax purposes. Don't let this happen to you every year. Plan your expense outlays so that you go over the optional 10-per cent deduction occasionally. This can be done by pyramiding two years of actual expenses into one.

For example, assume that you expect to have an adjusted gross income of $7,000 for this year and actual deductible expenses of about $600—or $100 less than what you would be entitled to deduct if you took the standard 10-per cent deduction. Not included in your actual expense estimate, however, is $250 in state taxes and $100 in home-loan interest charges that will have to be paid in 1958 but which can be paid in advance.

Beat the Standard Deduction

If you act quickly and pay these expenses before December 31, you can bring your total allowable deductions for 1957 up to $950. By itemizing deductions this year and taking the standard deduction next year—when your actual expenses should be somewhat less because of what you have prepaid—your total deductions for both years will be approximately $1,650. Had you taken the standard 10-per cent deduction in both years, the total would be only about $1,400.

A salaried worker who has difficulty finding enough deductions to make itemization worthwhile might consider carrying the pyramid plan one step further. He could set up a system of "lending" and "borrowing" year-end items that would make it possible for him to throw three years of deductible expenses into one.

Timing Deductions

You can begin your own 3-year pyramid by postponing payment on as much 1957 deductible expense as possible and planning to take the standard deduction on this year's return. The expenses you have postponed—or "loaned"—increase your 1958 deductions, and in the final months of 1958 you can "borrow" from 1959 by speeding-up the payment of deductible items.

As a result of your pyramiding you maximize your expenses for 1958 (when you should be able to beat the standard deduction by itemizing), and minimize your deductible items for 1957 and 1959 (when you will take the standard deduction and waste your actual expenses.) The general rule to follow when you are trying to make the most of your actual expenses is: keep outlays as low as possible in the years in which you take the standard deduction and pyramid them as much as possible in the years in which you itemize expenses.

Pyramid Medical Expenses

Most taxpayers need look no further than their family medical bills to find a deductible expense that can be pyramided to gain a welcomed tax advantage. The section of the tax law governing the deductibility of medical expenses states that unless your wife will be 65 years old by January 1, 1958, you may deduct only those medical expenses for 1957 in excess of 3 per cent of your gross income.

If you find that you are near or over the 3 per cent minimum and you are going to itemize deductions this year, you should pay as many of your medical bills as possible before December 31. And since medical expenses can be deducted only in the year paid (but cannot be prepaid), you might even consider speeding-up and paying for the dental work, eye examinations and general physical check-ups your family will otherwise be having in the early part of 1958.

Taxpayers who had low medical expenses for 1957 should reverse this procedure, postponing the payment of their year-end medical bills until after the first may be able to exceed the minimum requirement in 1958 and of the year. In this way, they to gain a benefit from a payment that would otherwise be lost on their 1957 return.

Plan Premium Payments

The premiums you pay on your health, accidents and hospital insurance policies can be deducted as a medical expense—so plan your payments accordingly. To give you greater flexibility in the shifting of medical deductions from one year to the next, you might arrange to have these premiums fall due in January.

Farmers To Talk Over Problems At IAA Meeting

Adoption of policy resolutions to guide Farm Bureau in the year ahead will occupy the spotlight when more than 5,000 farm people gather at the Hotel Sherman, Chicago, for the 53rd annual meeting of the Illinois Agricultural Association November 11-14.

One of the key resolutions is expected to center on the national farm program. Judging by county reports given at five area policy development meetings farmers are in agreement that the present farm program is not working well.

Resolutions will be submitted to the 519 voting delegates Thursday, Nov. 14 for their consideration. These tentative resolutions will be based on the county PD reports and on other information submitted to the farm people that form that 27-person committee.

No Muzzles

In addition, delegates may bring up subjects they feel are of concern on the floor of the convention. On Tuesday, Nov. 12, an open session of the tentative resolutions committee has also been scheduled to encourage farmers to air their opinions on subjects they want brought before the committee.

Besides the resolutions, there are several other matters of importance which will concern the farm men and women during the four-day meeting. At the Wednesday, Nov. 13 general session, Otto Steffey, president of the state-wide farm bureau from Henderson county, will give his report.

Steffey will review the year's activity in farm bureau and affiliated companies and then offer his ideas on problems confronting farmers.

Will Elect Directors

Election of directors and officers for the next term is another major piece of business facing the delegates. Seven directors will be elected for two-year terms, and officers will be chose for one-year terms.

Directors whose terms expire this year include: Lloyd Waldee, Waterman; Bert W. Horan, Alledo; Milo Miller, Pekin; Merle Jeffers, Catlin; George Bauer, Smithboro; Kenneth Stark, Nebo and Alfred Rister, Omaha.

Wednesday evening's session will feature three distinguished

The Tinley Park Times received an award in the annual Illinois Newspaper contest, in division A, for best local editorials.

The editorial which won recognition was entitled, "High School Board High Handed" and appeared in opposition to the school board's selection of a high school site in an area zoned for industry at Tinley Park.

The judges in commenting on the editorial stated: "This editorial on the proposed school site presents reasonable and effective arguments against building a new high school in an industrial zone. It points beyond the immediate problem and evaluates long-range growth and development of a suburban community. It recommends specific action."

The award was accepted by Mrs. Margaret Semmler at a banquet which climaxed a 3-day convention of the Illinois Press Association.

Sandburg Frosh-Sophs Finish Second

Score Double Win To End Football Season; Varsity Has 500 Year

The Sandburg Eagles lost their last football game of the 1957 season last week-end when they bowed to Evergreen Park, 21 to 7 in a Southwest Suburban conference tilt.

The Sandburg frosh-sophs, however, rolled up two wins. They blanked Oak Lawn, 20 to 0 in a make-up game, and then triumphed over Evergreen Park 36 to 13.

In the varsity encounter, the Mustangs put a field goal and three touchdowns together for their point total. The Eagles' lone tally came on a three-yard plunge by Eric Johanson. Phil Yurtis added the extra point on a reverse.

The loss dropped the Eagles back to fourth place in the conference standings, behind Rich, Evergreen Park and Bremen.

For the season the Sandburgs number of losses for a 500 percentage.

Sandburg frosh-sophs had an excellent season, winding up with seven triumphs and only one defeat but that defeat was—at the hands of Reavis—it cost Sandburg the title. Reavis won the frosh-soph crown with Sandburg finishing second.

In the game against Oak Lawn the Sandburg scoring was done by Vince DiBenedetto on a one-yard plunge; Dick Barry on an eight yard run and Byron Hyink who covered 30 yards in his dash for pay dirt. Jerry McBride kicked two extra points.

In the Evergreen Park battle, McBride scored on a 15-yard pass from Dick Barry. DeBenedetto scored the second touchdown on a plunge from the one-foot line while Sandburg's third tally came on a six-yard run by Paul Busch. Duane Erickson put the game on ice when he took a 20-yard pass from McBride and ran 40 yards for a score. McBride's toe accounted for two points after touchdowns.

Anyone See a Duck Wearing Monocle? Call Minnesota

If you should see a wild duck among those front of your blind, apparently wearing nose glasses, don't be alarmed. It probably is one of 600 ducks tagged by the Minnesota Department of Conservation with a new visual marker device which is affixed to the bill of the bird.

Director Glen D. Palmer of the Illinois department of conservation asked Illinois hunters to help Minnesota in its collection of research.

This can be done by: (1) notifying the Minnesota department if you see a duck bearing one of these new type nose markers, (2) Reporting the weight of the duck as well as the number of the marker, should you kill one of these ducks, (3) Returning the head of the duck, if you should kill one of these birds.

Information should go to Arnold B. Erickson, game research supervisor, Department of Conservation, 600 Shubert Building, St. Paul, Minn.

Trees A Crowd When Sidewalks Are Too Close

Three's apt to be a crowd if trees are planted within three feet of walks and driveways. The crowd will be crowding of roots under paved areas to heave up outdoor cement work.

Best rule is to give as much footage as space permits away from the walks and driveways and pass up locations that force plantings within the three-foot limit.

With the fall planting season well under way, home owners also should consider planting smaller ornamental varieties in restricted areas, rather than trees that mature into giants, reminds E. T. Bowen, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co. It's a good idea to check the nurseryman for kinds that will grow only to 18 to 35 feet for confined areas.

Root Stretch

Roots reach out farther and farther as your trees grow and frequently they push up sidewalks, which your city may force you to repair, as well as cause extensive damage to your driveways. Too-close planting also means excessive pruning must be done later so passers-by and cars can navigate. Over walks and drives, lowest branches should be at least eight feet from the ground. Actually, lower branches should be removed when the tree is quite young. Such cuts will heal quickly and leave few unsightly scars.

Amateur tree fanciers may retain low branches on young trees because of the popular misconception that they will elevate as the tree grows taller. Actually the position of all lateral branches is forever fixed when the twig starts.

Bremen Winds Up Season With 20-12 Upset Win Over Wheaton

Bremen wound up its 1957 football schedule with a 20 to 12 triumph over Wheaton, a non-conference foe, that had been unbeaten until last Friday night.

It was an upset as the Wheatons were favored to take the Braves by four touchdowns, according to some of the so-called experts.

Bremen apparently neglected to read Wheaton's press clippings or the predictions of the experts and besides that the Braves were truly up for this battle. They ran, they tore the Wheaton line apart, they blocked and tackled like champions and their efforts paid off handsomely.

The Braves pilot, Gary DuBois, passed well and mixed his plays well. Tony Albert, Dennis Tatum and Ron Caffrey performed yeoman service in lugging the mail. Tatum totaled 71 yards in 12 carries while Caffrey netted 71 for 13.

Wheatons aerials failed to click but the Tigers Pete Roller and Al Tinsley covered a lot of ground on running plays—221 yards of it, which is a lot of yardage in any league.

The Tigers drew first blood with a 61 yard march after the opening kick-off but failed to get the extra point. Bremen went to work then and finally bulled down to the one yard line where Wheaton held. A couple of plays later Art Mayes recovered Roller's fumble and that time the Braves were not to be denied. Albert plunged over from the one, Tatum carried the ball over for the extra point, and Bremen was in front 7 to 6. Wheaton threatened toward the close of the second period but fell a trifle short and the half ended.

Bremen took the kick-off to open the second half and went 67 yards in 12 plays to score but failed to gain the point and so led 13 to 6. Late in the final quarter the Braves scored again with Paul Meents, DuBois and Caffrey figuring in the key plays that set up the opportunity. Albert carried the ball over for the extra point and it was 20 to 6.

With three minutes to go the Tigers took to the air and this time with success. Johnny Fleck, Wheaton quarterback flipped a couple of passes to Gail Reed that connected, one for 23 yards and the other for 30 yards and a touchdown with less than half a minute to go. Wheaton missed the kick for point after touchdown and the game ended with Bremen 20 and Wheaton 12.

owners. They did not place a dollar value on the loot.

The burglary took place sometime between 2:30 Thursday morning and the time the store was opened a few hours later. The thieves broke in thru the front and broke out thru the rear door, which was equipped with a lock that cannot be opened without a key.

The burglars were either bold or foolhardy or both, it was pointed out, as the store and the surrounding grounds are well lighted and persons entering or leaving the building could be seen from the road.

This is the fifth time in the six months the store has been in operation that it has been burglarized.

crete block construction, veneer-adjoints the church proper on the ed with Joliet limestone and north. The addition was erected to provide room for the steadily growing Sunday school.

The Sunday school has grown far too large to be housed in the original church building and 13 classes are being held in Haven school.

The addition contains 14 class rooms for Sunday school on the ground floor. A large room, which can serve as a dining space or fellowship hall, is on the second floor, together with a modern, all-electric kitchen. The pastor's study is also located on this floor. The addition cost approximately $100,000, the money being raised thru a canvass of the members.

The kitchen in the basement of the church building will be used in preparing meals for small groups with the church organization.

600 in Congregation

The New Lenox Methodist church now has approximately 600 members and some 420 members in its Sunday school, divided into 33 classes.

In order to accommodate all of the members and friends of the church two services are conducted on Sunday morning, one at 8:30 and the other at 10:45. Sunday school is at 9:30. The new addition will meet the needs of the present Sunday school and as a matter of fact could accommodate double the present number by following the example of the church and have two separate Sunday school periods. There is talk of this now.

At this services this coming Sunday morning the Rev. Clarence Clock, pastor of the Ottawa Street Methodist church of Joliet, will preach. He is chairman of the commission on higher education in the Rock River conference and his subject Sunday will be "Methodism's Responsibility for Education."

Friends of the church are invited to both the regular services as well as the consecration ceremony.

HORSE THIEVES revived their their ugly trade in Orland township when they made off with Cyclone, the bay gelding pictured here. The horse was stolen from the premises of the owner, Mrs. Arthur Ashley, 167th st. and 104th ave., Orland Park, on Sunday, Oct. 20, while the family was away from home.

Cyclone stands 15 hands high, has white hind legs, from the knees down, and both front legs carry a white blaze from the knees down. There is also a long white blaze on the face.

Injured In Farm Accident

Emil Keuch, 58, of 159th and Keane ave. was critically injured Monday morning when his coat became entangled in the tumbling rods of an elevator, while he was unloading a load of corn.

He is in St. Francis hospital, Blue Island, where he was taken after being treated by Dr. Samuel Leavitt, of Orland.

A rib and ankle were fractured in the mishap. He also suffered back injuries and suffered considerable from shock.

The victim's cries for help were heard by Fred Bettenhausen, who rushed to his aid, cutting his coat from the machine and releasing him.

Bettenhausen obtained the help of Paul Cooper, of Cooper Oil and Emil Bettenhausen, who took the injured man to the hospital.

Mr. Keuch, whose wife died in 1951, has been farming the Clifford Raschke farm, Orland township.

Lions Get Ready For Annual Fruit Cake Sale at Mokena

The Mokena Lions are bringing up their sales guns preparatory to laying down a barrage, calculated to flatten all resistance to their annual fruit cake pitch.

The fruit cake sale this year will be conducted under the direction of Charles Swanberg and 500 of the cakes have been ordered. Team assignments will be made soon and the campaign started.

Mokena's Community park will benefit from the cake sale (every bite buys a bench?) so Lions will be working hard to get in as much money as possible, according to Fred Lehmann club president.

The Phi Chem Association of Lincoln-Way community high school is busy producing their fourth annual presentation—a three-act play entitled "No Girls Allowed."

Authors include: Doris Smith, Kathryn Cooper, Charles Otto, Joe Sluis, Ted Dunham, Tom Miller, Henry Barnett, Helen Sheridan, Tom Dunham, Leonard Senglin, and Richard DeForest with Neil Hardy and Paul Thomas, of the faculty, as sponsors.

"No Girls Allowed" is a science fiction comedy depicting the lives of ten-year-old boys. What problems do they have with the girls? What happens when a very strange visitor arrives on a special mission looking for a secret formula? This is all told in "No Girls Allowed."

The characters in "No Girls Allowed" were cast as follows: Chief, Gus Fehrenbacher; Chubby, Dennis Becker; Dodo, Jim Stauffenberg; Lightning, Henry Barnett; Mousey, Tony Charvet; Sis, Kathy Cooper; Patty, Gail Osborne; Marilu, Evelyn Roswell; Willie, Al Krusemark; Mrs. Saunders, Doris Smith; Mr. Saunders, Rich DeForest; Aunt Birdie, Petra Reinhardt; Mrs. Jones, Barbara Machtemes; Mrs. Brown, Beth Rose; and Mr. McGregor, Terry Marshall.

"No Girls Allowed" will be presented Friday, Nov. 15 and Saturday, Nov. 16 at 8 o'clock in the gymnasium of Lincoln-Way high school.

Smart motorists prepare for winter driving now. Keeping snow chains, a bucket of sand or cinders, and a shovel in the trunk of the car are good ways of taking the irritations out of winter driving.

Illness Fatal to Pauline Gower, 93; Rites Held Tuesday

Mrs. Pauline Gower, 93, of Mokena, died in the Burr Oak Rest home in Blue Island, Sunday, November 3, following a long illness.

She was born in Germany, Dec. 14, 1864 and lived in Chicago until five years ago when she moved to Mokena with her son Roy W.

She is survived by two sons, Ray, Mokena and Harry G. of Chicago; three grand children and 13 great grandchildren. Her husband, George E. died in 1929

Removal was made to the Hirsch chapel in Tinley Park where services were held Tuesday afternoon, with the Rev. William J. Riemann, pastor of St. John's Union church in Mokena officiating. Burial was made in the Fairmont cemetery at Willow Springs.

Peace and Quiet Marked Halloween At Frankfort

Halloween was a peaceful occasion at Frankfort and Mayor George Sangmeister, speaking in behalf of himself and other members of the village board, expressed appreciation.

Except for the levy of treats by costumed small fry calling at the homes of neighbors there was nothing to indicate the season.

There was no property destruction, no damage reported. A few windows were soaped but they were quite few and the soaping itself was lightly done.

The mayor attributes the safe and sane celebration of Halloween to the teachings and instructions gained at school and thru the efforts of various organizations.

"This is the best Halloween we ever had," the mayor said, and we feel very good about it and are very grateful."

Laguna Woods

Mrs. Robert Anderson
Fieidbrook 9-2857

Mr. and Mrs. Al Karre moved into their new home on 139th St., Oct. 30, and several days later, their daughter, Debbie, who is a first grade student at Orland Park school, came down with the flu! Most of the children in the Woods have had the flu and several of their parents.

The "Spooks" walked in Laguna Woods last Thursday. Many youngsters accompanied by their parents visited their neighbors for "Trick or Treat". The youngest children we saw were Gary Snedden who wore a Mickey Mouse costume and managed to take as much of his costume off at every stop as he could manage before his father could grab him and put it all back on again. We wonder which of them were the happiest to get back home after the trick or treat'in. Nancy Donohue two year old, wore a fancy clown costume her mother made for her.

After the youngsters had done their trick or treating several couples gathered at the Anderson home in costume. This was a last minute party on purpose so that the costumes would be spud-of-the-moment ideas. One of the girls was a very modernistic floor lamp. She wore two pair of long white underware, socks and gloves to match and a beautiful huge lamp shade on her head, complete with a light she held under the shade that kept flicking on and off. (We'll give you a hint, unbeknown to her that night she was followed by her pet white cat!)

The 1957 Beautification committee has added another touch of beauty to the entrance of Laguna Woods. A new redwood rustic sign with large white lettering marks the entrance to the Woods and is on the corner opposite the bus shelter at 135th and 80th ave. Our Beautification committee consists of Mrs. Al Karre and Mrs. Jack Nelson.

Have you heard about the midnight ride of Andy? A phone call came from relatives whose car had broken down on the highway Saturday night and had been towed into a station in New Lenox. The Anderson's were in Chicago and Andy was visiting his brother when the call came for help. A quick trip to New Lenox was made with a detour to Laguna Woods first, and after delivery the occupants of the stranded car home to Chicago. We served coffee to them at 1:00 a.m.

Washington Snapshots

Budget Thoughts

Political predictions and trends in Washington are as variable as the weather in the nation's capital.

Altho Congress is not in session, there is plenty of activity in the departments and agencies and among committee staff members on Capitol Hill who are preparing for a busy session of Congress next year.

One thing Washington observers agree upon—that now is the time to be thinking of the 1959 federal budget, which must be approved by Congress before it adjourns next summer prior to the important November elections.

There is no indication how much the President will ask for in his budget message to Congress next year.

However, in view of the fact that Congress pared the President's budget request during the last session, and the fact that there is a tremendous economy drive on in government departments and agencies, there is a possibility that the request next year may only be slightly lower than the last year.

Motorists should drive with extra care during the autumn season as children may be playing in leaf piles near streets or driveways. Youngsters playing near traffic in piles of leaves present a very real and hidden hazard.

Big Demand For Winter Tires

The estimate of the Rubber Manufacturers Association that nearly one in every three farm trucks and passenger cars will roll on winter tires this year provides convincing evidence that these special purpose traction tires have found a permanent place on the farm.

In its annual survey of winter tire use, the association found that 30 percent of the nation's farm vehicles moved on winter tires in the 1956-57 season. Present shipments and sales patterns indicate that farm usage will approach or reach 33 percent this winter, the association reports.

This organization found that in the snow belt and the adjoining tier of states where winter driving is largely of the deep mud variety, per capita use of these special purpose tires was much higher than the national average.

While the report takes note of the fact that farm users have been conspicuous in pioneering public acceptance of this new tire, it is clear that both urban and suburban motorists are awakening to the convenience, usefulness and safety aspects of this special traction tire. The association estimates that nearly 20 percent of motorists in the metropolitan suburban areas will drive on winter tires this year. It is believed that upwards of 45 percent of all motorists in the central states, agricultural and urban, will use snow tires this season.

As a special traction tire designed to put safe, comfortable and convenient driving on a year round basis, the winter tire is here to stay, the manufacturers say.

FARM NEWS

For Cook County
by
W. F.
Whiteside

assistant farm adviser

All 4H members shared the limelight during National 4H Achievement Day, Nov. 2 and at the county achievement program Nov. 5. And rightly they should. During the year, the 1,350 Cook county 4H members carried out projects in producing and conserving foods, feeds and fibers. They helped to make their homes more convenient and attractive and farming more efficient and profitable. They also worked to improve their own health and that of others in the community projects beamed toward better health and safety for their families and neighbors.

At the achievement meeting, several 4H members received very high honors in 4H club work. Their names and the honors have already been released. I am sure they would be the first to recognize that these accomplishments would not be possible without the help, guidance and counsel of others. Parents, 4H leaders, fellow members, and friends have all played an important role leading to the recognition of these youngsters. I am sure they would like me to thank all those folks who have helped along the way to make possible this success.

Several former 4H members were honored at Cook County's Achievement meetings. C. L. Mast Jr., Homewood, was named to membership in the 4H Key club. Mr. Mast is a former 4H Club Congress delegate, National 4H Camp delegate, and at present is editor of a national magazine for agricultural leaders with offices in Chicago. It was a pleasure to present this honor to such a distinguished former 4H'er.

In response to your telephone calls and letters, I am reprinting the information about control of box elder bugs. Apparently these little fellows are making themselves particularly obnoxious. To control them, use a half pint of 20% lindane concentrate in 2½ gallons of water. Use this spray outside the house on the foundation and sides of the house and a three foot strip of ground. Inside the house use a pyrethrin household spray or pick up the bugs with the vacuum cleaner.

You can estimate your roughage requirements for this winter by planning for at least 2½ tons of legume hay equivalent for each milking cow, 1½ to 2 tons for each yearling and ¾ ton for each heifer six to twelve months old. In making your estimates, figure 3 tons of silage equivalent to 1 ton of hay.

Research studies conducted at the University of Illinois show that yearly milk production records on individual cows in a herd are 90 percent as effective for improving the efficiency of production of the herd as both milk and butterfat records. Year ly milk records on each cow in the herd may be obtained in the weight a day a month program available thru county farm advisers.

Last year's cornpicker accident survey showed one thing common to all accidents: The accident happened because the power had not been shut off.

All cornpicker accidents can be prevented if all operators will shut off the power before attempting to unclog, grease or adjust the machine.

Thanksgiving day has been proclaimed every year since Abraham Lincoln began the custom.

Since 1930, farmers have used about 6 per cent more fertilizer each year.

Nothing's faster, nothing's cleaner—and electric dryers are completely automatic

COST?

ELECTRIC DRYERS

cost
$30 to $60 less to buy
than any other kind

Today's modern electric dryers will dry a full 8-lb. load of wash for just six cents.

And clothes stay clean and smell clean when they're dried in an electric dryer. No fumes can ever mix with garments. Electric heat is clean, dry, radiant heat—just like the sun.

It takes only 25 to 30 minutes to dry a full load of cottons electrically. This means your dryer will easily keep up with your automatic washer.

All electric dryers are fully automatic. No complicated igniting devices to get out of order.

And, as your electric appliance dealer will tell you, electric dryers cost less than any other type.

Net Income Of Texas Eastern Shows Big Gain

Consolidated net income of Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation for the third quarter of 1957 increased sharply to $6,320,903 compared with $3,334,958 for the same period last year, according to the quarterly report issued today.

After provision for dividends on preferred stocks, earnings per share for the quarter amounted to 63 cents on the basis of 8,326,261 shares of common share reported for third quarter 1956 on the basis of 7,190,220 shares of common stock then outstanding or 33 cents per share on the basis of the number of shares outstanding at the end of the 1957 period.

Principal factors affecting the company's earnings picture, according to Orville S. Carpenter, president, were increased gas sales, suspension during construction of depreciation and tax charges against a major portion of the Little Big Inch line, and capitalization of interest charged construction.

Gas Price to Increase

Texas Eastern will begin charging a new schedule of rates for its gas sales on Nov. 10, Mr. Carpenter said. These new rates, which are expected to add $11,200,000 annually to the company's revenues, will be collected subject to refund of any portion ultimately not allowed by the federal power commission which is expected to begin hearings in the near future on the company's application for the rate increases.

Mr. Carpenter in his letter to stockholders said that Texas Eastern has acquired all of the outstanding stock of La Gloria Oil and Gas Company, Corpus Christi, Texas, and is now operating La Gloria as a subsidiary with no changes in management or personnel.

Rapid progress was reported on construction of new natural gas facilities authorized by the Federal Power Commission under the company's natural gas expansion programs. New facilities replacing the natural gas capacity of the Little Big Inch line were completed and a 1,168 mile segment of the Little Big Inch was removed from natural gas service. Reconversion work on the Little Big Inch including construction of a new lateral line from Seymour, Indiana, to Chicago is almost complete. Although regular operation of the new products facilities will not commence for some time, they will be ready for intermittent service in a few weeks, Mr. Carpenter said.

International Stock Show To Open Nov. 29

It will soon be show time in Chicago again with the curtain rising on new and exciting features at the 58th annual International Livestock and grain growers. In addition to the usual top quality exhibits of both breeding and fat stock in the arena, show rings and stock yards pens — the international grain and hay show and the international wool show will have new locations on the ground floor level in Donovan hall, newest addition to the amphitheatre. New features are planned to make them more interesting and attractive.

Arthur Godfrey to Star

In line with new policy of providing entertainment headlines at the International, Arthur Godfrey, famed television and radio star, will appear at every horse show performance. A cattleman and horseman on his own when he is away from television cameras, Godfrey will feature the day's livestock events on his morning TV and radio shows originating in the Amphitheatre. He will ride his famous Arabian at horse show performances.

Horse shows are scheduled for nine evening performances and six afternoons.

The stock show provides more than a week full of judging events and sales. Most dramatic is the selection of the grand champion steer on Tuesday afternoon. Dr. A. D. Weber, dean of agriculture, Kansas State college, rounds out a decade of judging all steer classes.

Half Million Visitors

Judging of steers, breeding cattle and sheep, wether lambs and barrows, as well as of grain, hay and wool, will bring an expected half million visitors to the stock yards.

Bigger yields of lean meat are the goals of the International Carcass Contest which last year reached high levels of interest for producer, packer and consumer alike. Animals are judged on hoof, slaughtered and judged again. Top prize winners get deluxe housing in a trailer show window in the Amphitheatre and are auctioned in the arena at the Tuesday night horse show.

Auction sales climax International show week. The International label on meats has come to mean the very best to consumers everywhere.

Law On The Farm

A new law enacted by the 85th congress provides for compulsory inspection of poultry and poultry products that move in interstate commerce. The United States department of agriculture is to carry out the inspection to prevent unwholesome or adulterated poultry products from being offered for sale to the public.

Basically the law provides for inspection of birds after slaughter and use of prescribed methods of processing, labeling and packaging. It empowers the secretary of agriculture to prescribe the type of premises, facilities and equipment that will be required under the sanitary practices sections.

Because of constitutional limitations, the law applies only to poultry and poultry products shipped in foreign or interstate commerce and to those shipped in a designated major consuming area. Such poultry and poultry products cannot be shipped unless authorization has been received. The term poultry includes chickens, turkeys, ducks, geese and guineas. The new law will generally prohibit the shipment of "New York dressed" poultry by requiring that blood, feet, head, feathers and viscera be removed from slaughtered birds before shipment.

At present all USDA inspection of poultry is done on a voluntary basis. The new law makes inspection compulsory after January 1, 1959. After January 1, 1958, with approval of the USDA, persons may elect to have inspection and to comply with the new law.

The law does not apply to live poultry nor to eggs. It specifically exempts producers who slaughter their own poultry or those producers who process their own and sell it directly to household consumers, restaurants, hotels and others who serve it to consumers only. Also exempt is the retailer who merely cuts up poultry that has been previously dressed for sale to consumers.

The law will not apply to slaughtering and processing plants shipping poultry exclusively within a state unless shipments go to a major consuming area. Such areas will be established by the secretary of agriculture and will probably be centered around large cities.

Read Romans 15:1-7.
We then that are strong ought to hear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves. (Romans 15:1.)

We were sitting in the darkened balcony of a large auditorium watching a film when a man entered from one of the brightly lighted corridors. Before his eyes became adjusted to the darkness, he stumbled at the first step as he started up the aisle. Quickly hands were outstretched to guide him. In this way he was helped along from person to person and finally guided to a seat.

How often the glamors of the world, in which we so much live, blind our eyes to things of a spiritual nature! We live blindly and in fear unless helping hands are outstretched to guide us. Then we become firmly established in faith and secure in the fellowship of the Church.

This is one of the great privileges which we as Christians enjoy—helping one another until we are secure in the knowledge that we belong to Christ and that He belongs to us.

PRAYER

Our heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the Helping hands that have been extended to us along life's way. Keep us ever mindful of others who need Christian love and guidance. Grant that we may be a beacon and a help to them. In the name of Christ. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

By helping others we strengthen ourselves.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Man's perfect, sinless nature as the spiritual child of God will be emphasized in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Adam and Fallen Man" at Christian Science services Sunday, November 10.

Keynoting the Scriptural readings is the following passage to be read from Genesis (1:27): "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them."

A correlative passage which refers to this record of creation will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (516:27-29): "To emphasize this momentous thought, it is repeated that God made man in His own image, to reflect the divine Spirit."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (112:4): "Unto the upright there ariseth light in the darkness."

Tells Why He Wrote About Christ's Death

By JIM BISHOP

Author of "The Day Christ Died"

A Jewish banker was dying. A priest held his hand. These two were old friends. The priest, better than anyone, knew the great love this man had for all children of all faiths and tried to smile. "I die a disciple of Judea," he said. "In a way, I envy you your Jesus. He had enormous love to give, and He proved it by dying for everybody. How much more a mystery He would have been had He not died, my friend."

The banker spoke my thought. In dying, Jesus proved in pain the love He had for all men. His resurrection proved His divinity, but it was of benefit only to those of little faith. They needed proof. He gave it. But when He died, He died as a man susceptible to fear, to pain, to doubt, to mental torture. It had to be this way because, if He did not, He would have felt none of the cruelty man inflicted upon Him.

And so, with my daughter Gayle, 12, I went to Jerusalem to see with my doubting eyes, to listen with my wavering ears, to think with my apprehensive mind, of all the truths one can find in the city where, 2,000 years ago, He washed the feet of twelve men, including a traitor.

A Reporter's Re-creation

In time, I wrote a book about what I saw and what I heard, and what I read. It was called "The Day Christ Died". It is a reporter's re-creation of the events from the time of the last supper until after the crucifixion. Each chapter covers one hour of that last day. It is far from a perfect book—a book can only be as strong as its author—but every word of it represents the truth as God gave me to see the truth.

The whole time I was in awe. Not so Gayle. The faith of the very young is so strong that all we learned was mundane to her. She stood in the Garden of Gethsemane and looked at the walls of Jerusalem, 900 feet to the west.

"Dad," she said, "remember the part where the Bible says that Our Lord was praying here and He woke the apostles and said that the betrayer was coming?" I nodded. "Well," she said, "now I understand it because if He was kneeling here, He could see the walls of Jerusalem. At two in the morning, Judas came through that gate over there with the torch-bearers and Our Lord could see them. Who else would be marching at that hour?"

Please God, I said to myself, give that kind of faith to more

The Bremen Beat

by EDWIN BRUELL

New uniforms, consisting of white sweaters and skirts with red trim and accessories, have been ordered for the varsity cheerleaders of Bremen community high school, according to Prudence Penney, faculty sponsor.

They were purchased from proceeds of a recent dance sponsored by the cheerleaders.

Dispensing cheers for the varsity are Georgette Zirbes, senior and a veteran of three years; Janet Carlson and Alice Albright, seniors; and Diane Koss, junior, the latter three girls with two years' experience apiece.

The frosh-soph cheerleaders, who will acquire the varsity uniforms, are all sophomores each with one year's experience in leading cheers. They are Barbara Lugar, Elaine Malan, Donna Bonaker, and Jeanette Rizzuti.

To prepare for their colorful appearance at athletic contests and at school pep assemblies, the girls hold practice sessions every Thursday from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. under the guidance of Miss Penney and Mrs. Betty Lou Hill assistant faculty sponsor. Attendance is required, and the girls also need to maintain a "B" average in physical education and a "C plus" average in academic grades. Their eligibility is checked every week to insure scholastic proficiency.

Tryouts for the cheerleading posts are held in April just before spring vacation. Preceding the official tryouts, before a group of judges consisting of five seniors and five faculty members, is a preliminary two-week session of three evenings a week. Any Bremen girl may try out, and there is usually a turn out of 80-90 hopefuls.

Other requirements besides the grades are a record of no suspensions and recommendations from two teachers in whose courses the students are enrolled, as well as the approval of the dean of girls, the nurse, and the faculty cheerleading sponsors.

The four girls with the highest number of points in the varsity and frosh-soph groups respectively are the ones who receive the nod and become the eight official cheerleaders.

BUYING MOVIE CAMERA

The "B" club, athletic society at Bremen high school, is in the process of purchasing a motion picture camera for the physical education department in order to take pictures of all athletic events, according to John Diehl, faculty sponsor.

One of the highlights of the year is the "B" club banquet, scheduled for Wednesday, May 21, at which a well known speaker will make an appearance.

Another of the events sponsored by this group is the "B" Club Dance Saturday, April 19, with a Beehive Ball theme carried out and a new queen to be chosen at the dance. She will be crowned by Allison Hires, last year's queen, who succeeded Alice Ekstrom in the regal role.

Bill Fierke, senior, is president with Roger Hug, senior, as vice president and Gary DuBois senior, serving as secretary-treasurer.

A member of this group may be recognized by his large "B" emblem which he wears on the Bremen school sweater. To become eligible, a student must be awarded a varsity letter in any sport.

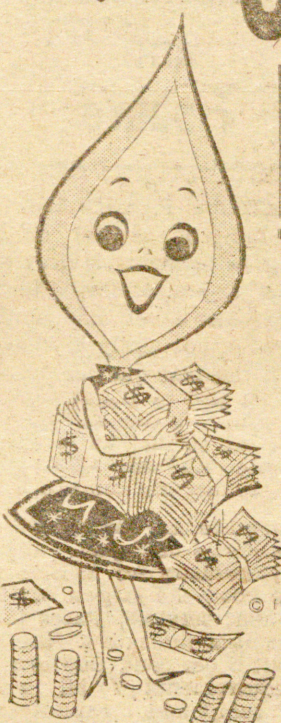

"Other requirements are that a member must conduct himself like a gentleman and pay the dues," Diehl, director of athletics at Bremen, said.

FROM SCIENCE TO ART—that is what happens each year at Lincoln-Way high school when the Phi Chem Association writes and produces an original play. State Spending for Handicapped Pupils Approaches Million Average monthly enrollments during the past school year for special education classes for the physically handicapped children in the public school of Cook and Will counties were 2,272 and 42 respectively according to Vernon L. Nickell, state superintendent of public instruction.

Total amount of claims for the program previously approved for Cook was $665,527 and for Will county $12,201, Nickell said. These claims were part of the statewide claims of $957,385, which has been paid by the state pursuant to enabling statutes. The statewide average monthly enrollment in the special classes for physically handicapped children was 3,496.42; in the previous year 1955-56, this total was 3,488.82 but the claims were greater, $1,014,149.

Business and Finance

MAURICE P. ANGLAND

A reading of several of the leading investment services and advisory organizations, indicates a general belief that general business is not likely to show a drop in the last quarter of 1957 and with only a slight upward move, could be the best quarter of 1957 in so far as physical production and the Gross National Product are concerned.

Economists are closely watching estimates of capital spending by industry for 1958. Standard & Poor, the largest of the investment services, states their field reports indicate a decline of about 5 per cent. Due to special requirements of oil and utility companies, capital expenditures are expected to rise, but that decline in the other industrial categories will offset that rise and a small over all decline.

Consumer income is reaching new highs each month and retail trade has established new highs in each of the last five months. The "tight money" policy of the Federal Reserve is likely to make business men pare their inventory position further and due to this, it is expected that the first half of 1958 will show a slight decline in the first half of the year.

More Money for Homes

Smaller industrial demand for credit is expected to ease the pinch on home building mortgage money. A study of housing needs indicates a likely increase in home building and recent contract awards confirm this.

Some commentators believe that there will be a new wave of defense spending with its inflationary impetus. Some also believe that there is likely to be considerable political pressure for the Federal Reserve to ease its controls. Such pressure, of course, would be heaviest when congress is in session. They point out that 1958 is an election year. It would seem to be somewhat unrealistic to believe that the Federal Reserve policy will not be affected by political pressures if they are heavy. Inflationary problems now are common in most nations and particularly in democracies where all votes have equal weight.

Population Gains

Practically all financial commentators are agreed that the decade after 1960 will be one in which there will be a boom in population with greater and greater demands for goods and services. It is expected there will be a labor shortage and greatly increased demand for automation in industry.

A big jump is expected in family formations with their natural demand for housing, furnishings and appliances. It is pointed out that marriages are concentrated in the 20-30 age group. In 1955 there were only about 22,500,000 in this group compared with 23,750,000 in 1950 and 22,700,000 in 1940. The decline was due to low birth rate of the depression years. It is expected that usual marriage age group, will approach 24,000,000 in 1965 and this figure will be close to 30,000,000 in 1970.

Naturally production must anticipate demand.

In terms of the country's requirements, any excess of productive capacity is temporary. Population is expected to reach 178.5 millions in 1960; 192.6 million in 1965 and 208.3 million in 1970. In addition research is driving our standards of living ahead at a rapid rate.

MENTAL RETARDATION

Expanded educational programs are needed to inform public, courts, and medical profession that mental retardation is not hopeless, but in some instances can be prevented, or, if promptly diagnosed and treated carries a good prognosis for effective life adjustment. These facts were emphasized at a meeting of Governor William G. Stratton's commission on mental retardation.

The Treasury Department's lowest balance for a single day was $28,239.61 on December 31, 1956.
